NavSync offers Contract Manufacturing capabilities from prototype needs to production level runs.

At Navsync, our work in developing GPS solutions for our customers has led us to an understanding of the manufacturing requirements from prototype up to production levels. We see the importance of getting quality product to market in a timely fashion. For these reasons, we are now offering our services as a contract manufacturer to the wider market.

Our Contract Manufacturing Group has extensive experience in both contract manufacturing and OEM outfits, and in production, quality, process and engineering disciplines. We offer DFM and DFT services along with information and guidance on all aspects of manufacturing, which will ensure an efficient and economic end product. In addition, we offer board layout or design services should your company require it, allowing you time to concentrate on core competencies.

To discuss your manufacturing requirements or to get further information on our services, you can contact us directly at:
